

The Diary

What's on across the area

CONTENTS

Going Live

Ahead of their Newmarket Nights gig, Bananarama talk girl power

Green Party

The founder of Cambridge Eco Festival gives us the lowdown

Survival Guide

Wellies at the ready: how to survive festival season

STUDIO TOUR

Fans of Naomi Davies, the Cambridge artist known for capturing local people and places in signature watercolour and ink, should clear their diaries for the first two weekends of July: she's showcasing both a body of new work and her workspace as part of Cambridge Open Studios (turn to page 64 for more). Exhibitions will then follow at Burwash Manor's Secret Garden Marquee (September 28 & 29, as part of a group) and Cherry Hinton deli Balzano's (throughout October). We love her cityscapes: from street scenes to coffee shop snapshots, they're little pieces of home.

See naomidaviesart.co.uk and follow on social for more.